JESSICA MORRISON

I'm Jessica, mom to three young boys and an adopted hound. After living in New York, California, and Rhode Island, I returned home to my roots on Cape Cod.

In addition to writing This Real Mom, I freelance for other publications and provide social media consulting and support to individuals and brands.

THE BLOG

This Real Mom is a lifestyle blog that covers the following topics: food, family travel, parenting, home and blogging/social media advice. The blog is updated at least once weekly and promoted through all of my social channels. I love working with brands that embrace healthy living and are family-friendly.

I routinely cover healthy lifestyle topics, parenting and family travel. If you feel this blog is a good fit for your brand, contact me and let's work together!
